BALJURK (GOWN)

The Baljurk project is a part of integrated revitalization of this area, which includes ten historical plots. Behind nine restored facades the architects designed eight houses on an elevated level, underneath which, a shopping area will be built. On this spot a zig-zagging stream once mediated a transition between two streets, a feature unique to The Hague's city plan. With restoration and construction projects such as these, historical art nouveau facades are translated into a contemporary fragment of liquid architecture.
